RESPONSIVENESS

Ashley Sanders
Human Resources

The recipient of the Responsiveness award always delivers on his or her commitments in a timely manner. An employee who represents responsiveness never waits to follow up on communication, ensures that all parties involved are kept up to date at all times for effective flow of work, and when he or she is involved, there is no fear of something falling through the cracks. This employee is communicative, fast paced, detail oriented, focused and team oriented.

“ I am incredibly appreciative to receive this recognition. Providing thoughtful, courteous and effective communication to county employees and citizens is a responsibility that I do not take lightly. I love the work I do everyday and am blessed to be supported by a great team of colleagues in the HR office. They each model exceptional responsiveness which inspires me to embody these characteristics in all of my interactions. It is an honor to be a small part of making Franklin County a great place to work and live!
